How was this event publicized?

We sent out via evite, along with 4 separate reminders, and announced at the Senior transition night. Our attendance was huge, much larger than expected (students and parents were invited) probably because we did not specify a cut-off date for RSVPs.

Refreshment and Supply Notes:

Racha provided all the food - catered by Vios, delicious middle eastern/Greek food. Parents brought juices and desserts (8).

Decorations and Room Set-up Notes:

Event Notes:

This should become an annual tradition - it was lovely, very relaxed. Great timing. Seniors receive college acceptances around this time and a great idea to celebrate the hard-working college admissions staff. I would have a cut-off date for reservations and would be stricter about specifying no siblings (we tried, but several still showed up). Host was very generous to provide all the food, and I am sure people would have been glad to bring salads, breads or other items to complement the meal.
